

Players Of The Game vs Chaney 9-17-04

Defense

Senior noseman Lex Carkido was selected as the defensive player of the game for his tremendous effort against the Chaney Cowboys. Throughout the course of the game Lex was able to occupy two blockers allowing his teammates to make plays. When he was not double teamed, Lex found his way to the ball carrier.

Special Teams

Sophomore LB/OL Nate Brode earned special teams player of the game award with two tackles on the kick-off and punt units. Nate is a member of most special teams units and has consistently given a great effort. His play against Chaney allowed the Cardinals to gain crucial yardage on special teams.

Offense

Sophomore guard Justin Bonanno was named the offensive player of the game for his outstanding blocking performance against the Chaney Cowboys. Playing against all seniors upfront, Justin did more than hold his own. Down 15-0 Justin and his teammates fought back to take a 21-15 lead in overtime. Justin also doubles as a defensive lineman throughout the game.

Practice Player Of The Week

Junior Josh Summer earned this award with his fine play throughout the week leading up to the Chaney ballgame. A tight end and defensive end, Josh gave his teammates a great look for the entire week. The Cards are currently 3-1 because of the fine efforts of Josh and his scout team teammates.
