

Players Of The Game vs Howland 9-24-04

Defense

Senior defensive tackle Nick Murdock was named the player of the week for his outstanding effort against league rival Howland. Nick led the team in tackles with 8 and also had 1 sack. Since returning to the lineup following a foot injury, Nick has elevated the play of our defensive front.

Special Teams

Punter Justin Wolf was named the special team player of the game for his fine punting performance last Friday night. Justin averaged 37.2 yards per attempt. Justin's effort enabled the Cards to maintain positive field position for most of the ballgame.

Offense

Junior center Nick Rouser had his best performance of the year against Howland. Grading out at 90%, Nick led the offensive line against the best defense in the conference. Howland had given up 4 touchdowns in the first 4 ballgames. Nick led his teammates to 2 scores and 2 other scoring opportunities.

Practice Player Of The Week

For the second time sophomore John Pitzulo was named the practice player of the week. John gave another outstanding effort during the 4 days of practice leading up to the Howland game. His performance has allowed the varsity players to be well prepared for each game.
