

Players Of The Game vs Salem October 15, 2004

Defense

Senior Chad Gifford and Junior Kyle Banna were selected as the Defensive Players of the Game against Salem. Chad graded out at 92% from his cornerback position while be credited with 5 tackles. This was by far Chad's best game of his career. Kyle is a Junior inside linebacker and a team captain. He was a major force all night long in holding the league's top scoring offense to just 3 points. Kyle finished with 8 tackles on the night.

Special Teams

Junior kick returner Angelo Babbaro averaged 22 yards on 5 punt returns last week against Salem. Time and again Angelo and the punt return unit gave great field position to the offense. Winning the special teams battle against the Quakers helped the Cardinals to their 14th straight win over Salem. Angelo also turned in an extraordinary performance from his safety position. On the night he had 12 tackles and a caused fumble.

Offense

None selected.

Practice Player Of The Week

After missing the first seven ballgames with a hip injury, Junior Denny Billec returned to action last week. Playing scout team all week long Denny never came off the practice field. It is great to have such a fine student-athlete back playing.
